DEATH OF J. C. PRICE

John Calvin Price, a prominent farmer of Dunmore, Pocahontas county, died suddenly last Monday morning aged 75 years. He appeared to be in good health on that day and was sitting in his chair at his home reading and talking to his daughter and appeared to her to go to sleep. When his son came in just before noon it was discovered that he had passed away peacefully at some time that day.

He was the son of James A. Price and Margaret D. Price and was born in the year 1840 at the old Price homestead where Marlinton now stands, then known as Marlins Bottom.

He served through the entire Civil War as a gallant Confederate soldier, Co. E. 19th Va. Cal., and was wounded while at home on a furlough in an endeavor to escape capture by swimming the Greenbrier River.

In 1885, his first marriage took place with Miss Florida See, daughter of Adaa See of Randolph county. From this union there were two children born, two fine handsome boys. His wife and both boys died within a short period of time. His second wife was Miss Mary Williams, of Highland county, daughter of Dr. Robert Williams, who survives him, with two grown sons, Ligon and Emmett, and one daughter Mary Margaret.

He was a man with many friends with an interesting personality, well read and had a great gift of conversation. He has played a very considerable part as one of the older citizens in the public affairs of the county.

The deceased was a ruling elder in the Presbyterian Church. The funeral services were conducted by his pastor Rev. H. H. Leach, assisted by Rev. John Mack Walker. Services were held in the Baxter Church at Dunmore and interment took place in the Clover Lick cemetery.

Of the brothers and sisters of the deceased but three remain. One sister, Mrs. Mary M. G. McLaughlin, Rev. Wm. T. Price, D. D., and Capt. Woods Price.

The sore mouth which was prevalent among the horses and cattle in the county is not the foot and mouth disease which was scattered over a large part of the United States this year. The veterinarians who came from the State agricultural station and also from the Department at Washington, pronounced it stomatitis caused by a fungus growth on the grass or other food eaten by the animals. It is not contagious and the disease runs its course in about a week.

Died, Rice Carr, aged 32, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Carr, at Clawson, Sunday, September 19, 1915. Funeral service at the home place on Monday, conducted by Rev. T. W. Hogsett.

Robbers entered the store at Spruce Thursday night and secured about five hundred dollars in money and an equal amount in goods was missed. The postoffice is kept in the same building, and makes it a postoffice robbery.

Over two thousand hunters' licenses have been issued and are still being issued at the rate of seventy or more each day. Beside the work and trouble this nuisance has cost the clerk near one hundred dollars in postage.

Captain C. B. Swecker wishes to announce that his auction sale at Arbovale is continued until Saturday September 25, and at that time the goods will positively be sold.

T. L. Beard was thrown from his horse at Seebert, and painfully cut and bruised about the head, on Monday.

Editor R. A. Kramer caught an 18 inch bass that weighed three pounds and four ounces at Buckeye last Saturday.

Some weeks ago J. W. Kirkpatrick hurt his hand very severely in a well boring machine.

About thirty dollars was realized at the supper for Anderson's Kid Band, Saturday night.

J. L. Baxter received a car load of Ford automobiles this week.

Married, in Charlottesville, Va., September 22, 1915, Forrest Hill and Miss Eva Moore, of Hillsboro.

Mrs. Emmett Sis, aged 19 years was killed by lightning while standing in the door of her home at Spring Creek Saturday evening. The lightning struck the house beside an upstairs window, went down the door frame to a hinge and from that to the woman, killing her instantly. She is survived by her husband.

R. S. McNeill, of Kee & McNeill, cut his hand very badly on a broken bottle last Thursday. The leaders and arteries in his wrist were severed and the cut went to the bone. However, it is now thought the will not lose the entire use of his hand.

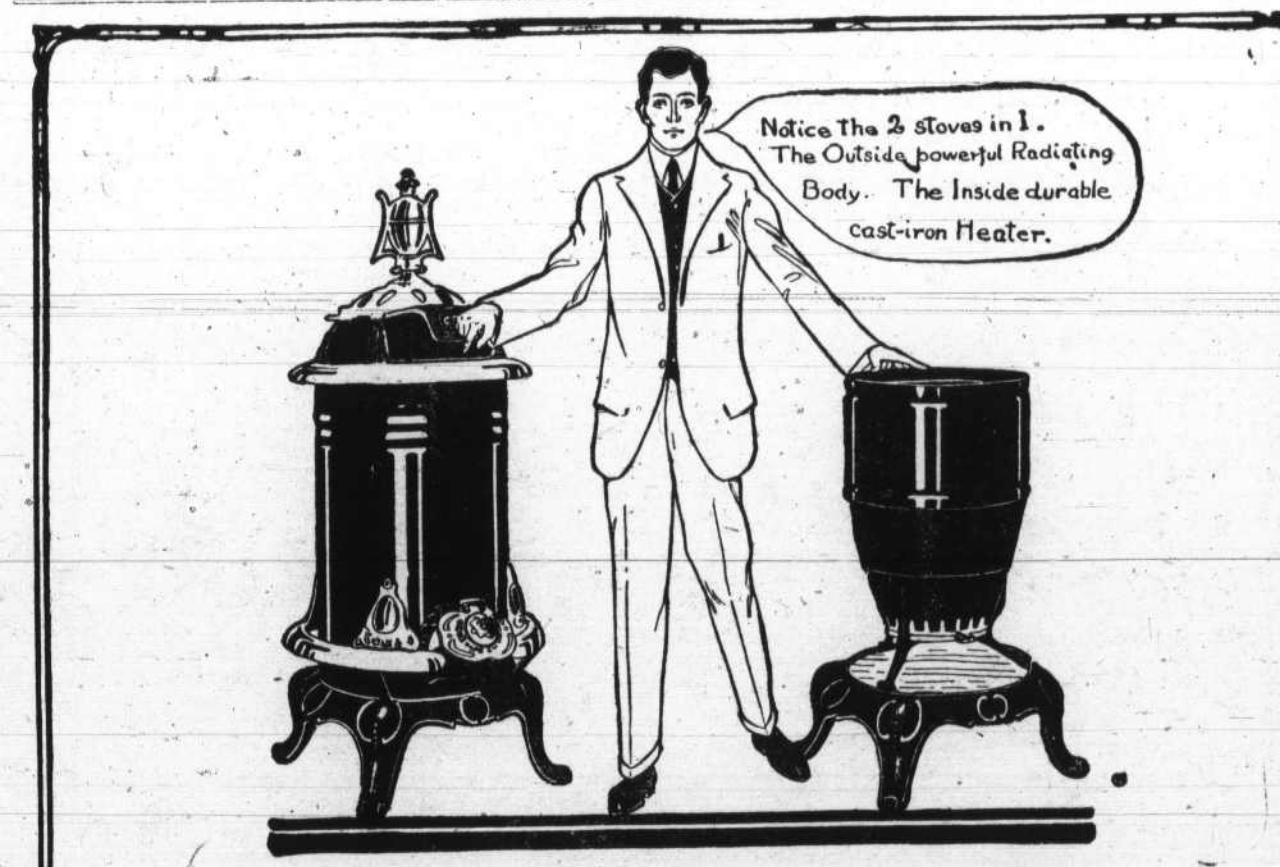

The venerable C. W. Vandergrift underwent the amputation of his leg for blood poison at the railway hospital at Clifton Forge on Sunday. Many persons in Pocahontas will remember him as supervisor of the carpenter force on the Greenbrier division.
